Cleaning up the legislative races. Thanks to a particularly astute and thorough reader, I have two corrections to my recent round up of legislative races:

1. In reporting on the Senate races, my Beaver spirit got the better of me when I referred to candidate "Mike" Hass, who was appointed to fill the vacancy created by Ryan Deckert when he left to lead the Oregon Business Association. As far as I know, Mike Hass, the star Beaver wide receiver, is still playing for the Chicago Bears: http://www.chicagobears.com/team/player90.html. And MARK Hass continues to represent Senate District 14 in Salem: http://www.leg.state.or.us/hass/.

2. I also incorrectly reported that State Senator Doug Whitsett (R-Klamath Falls) was the lone Senate Republican who did not face opposition in the primary or general election. In fact, Whitsett is joined by two other Republican Senators who face cake walks come May and November: State Senator David Nelson, (R-Pendleton), and State Senator Ted Ferrioli (R-John Day), the Republican leader.

Brief Outage. I will be out of the office over the next 2 1/2 weeks and will not be within e-mail or cell phone range. If you have immediate business needing attention, catch me before Friday.

After Friday, please contact Heather Bené directly: heather.bene@oregonstate.edu. You can reach Heather by phone: (541) 737-4514.
