Supplemental Figure 1: Diagram of how segments were cut to measure hydraulic conductivity in trunk wood.

1. Cut out segment of core.

2. Insuring that tracheids are aligned up and down (relative to next cuts), cut edges from core segment.