Not Just Linus
Fascinating Stories from the OSU Libraries Special Collections

That aren’t about Linus Pauling
The Godmother
“[I]n a quiet, top-floor corner of [the library] is a room shelved with books and illuminated by soft lights, but best of all furnished with big comfy ‘overstuffeds’ warranted to take out the kinks. That’s the McDonald room, Library 301.”

Leaf from Postilla Super Totam Bibliam, Nicholas of Lyra, 1485.

Italian missal leaf, ca. 15th century

Sumerian cuneiform tablet, 2041 B.C. (over 4,000 years old!)
The Polymath
The BEROJU PUPPET THEATRE

809 East Walnut St., Pasadena
Telephone Colorado 6964

Presents for your delectation and joyance
a salmagundi of tasty acts served up in rare style

Every Friday Night at 8:30
Admission 55 Cents

For the Children Every Saturday
Afternoon at 3:00

Other evening performances can be arranged for private parties of twelve or more. A novel way to entertain your dinner guests. For further information telephone or inquire of The Beroju Theatre.

INSTRUCTION IN PUPPETRY
LOS ANGELES WILL HAVE A MOON OF ITS OWN.

Thirty-eight-foot model for the Griffith Park Observatory built exactly to scale from photographs taken through the 100-inch telescope at Mount Wilson.
The Iconoclast
CLOTHED IN TEXTILES
SO WE WON'T EMBARRASS
WE LEARN FIBER STRUCTURE
FROM MILTON HARRIS
\[ \frac{x}{V(1-x)} = \frac{1}{\frac{V}{m}} + \frac{(C-1)x}{\frac{V}{m}} \]
The Masters of Electricity
Newspaper writers observing 1 million volt, three phase, sixty cycle test. General Electric High Voltage Engineering Laboratory, Pittsfield, Massachusetts, June 5, 1923.
“Maybe next year....”