INTRODUCTION

This directory is compiled as part of the Land Resource Information Program of the Oregon State University Extension Service. It is an update of earlier directories put out by Extension. The primary function of the directory is to provide a current list of planning commission members in each county and city. Although there are other directories of professional planners in Oregon, names and addresses of county, city and regional planning agencies have been included in this list for the sake of convenience. Also included on the inside front cover is a list of county agents involved in community development. The final section lists other directories, newsletters and professional associations which may provide useful information to planners.

The information contained herein comes from a number of sources. The data on county and city planning commissioners and directors comes from questionnaires sent out during the period from March to June, 1975. The information on the dates of adoption of the Comprehensive Plan, Zoning Ordinance and Subdivision Ordinance was also obtained through these questionnaires. If parts of this information were not available, the applicable section has been excluded. A table on the next page summarizes this information. Each city listing indicates the county in which the city is located. Also, the population of each city and county is included as given in the 1975-1976 Oregon Blue Book. Data on regional planning agencies was obtained from the Directory of Natural Resource Planning Agencies published by the Pacific Northwest River Basins Commission and updated by questionnaires.

This directory is compiled by James R. Pease, Land Resource Management Specialist, and Luanne Beller, Program Secretary. Please send notice of any changes in personnel or addresses to the Land Resource Management Specialist, Geography Department, Oregon State University, Corvallis, Oregon 97331.
