Between the years of 1870 and 1887 the college offered the two degrees of BS and AB. The BS degree implied the completion of the general collegiate course without special work in languages. The AB degree implied a specializing for four years in Latin and Greek. The honorary degree of AM, granted by a vote of the faculty and approved by the board of regents, implied advanced literary work with additional specialization in the languages mentioned above.

In 1888 emphasis was laid upon a greater degree of specialization, but it was not until 1892 that the degrees were regularly conferred in the various schools. After that year the school from which the degree was granted has been indicated in each case.
