

3/4/93
Total - 219-5
shelf - 0
Inv. # 26288

CARING FOR BABIES

4-H Record

4-H 912R • Reprinted February 1993

record is part of your 4-H project. Keep your record neat, clean, and up to date. Pencil is recommended. If you need help, ask your parents or leader. If you need more space, add notebook paper.

Name _____ County _____ Grade _____ Year born _____

Address _____ City/State _____ Zip _____

Club name _____ Leader _____

Year in 4-H _____ Year in project _____ Date record started _____ 19__ Date record closed _____ 19__

In this project I plan to learn and do: _____

Important things I learned about young children: _____

Ways I learned or used what I learned*: _____

*Examples include presentations, demonstrations, exhibits, making and using toys with children, making gifts, teaching someone an activity you've learned, being a babysitter

4-H Record

Share the story of your Caring for Babies project. Look at the list of activities in your Caring for Babies Introduction, 4-H 912, and the suggested activities at the end of each information folder you received. Select four outstanding activities to write a paragraph about. Explain what you did and how you used your club learnings to accomplish your activity.

Activity	How I felt and used new skills successfully
Activity	How I felt and used new skills successfully
Activity	How I felt and used new skills successfully

4-H Record

Activity	How I felt and used new skills successfully
Activity	How I felt and used new skills successfully

4-H Record

Learning activities

The 4-H Caring for Babies project increases your knowledge of the ways babies grow and develop. A number of experiences are suggested so you can practice skills necessary to keep children safe and happy while they are in your care. Describe what you've learned and done in each of the situations below:

Observing babies' growth and change through the first 3 years of life:

Demonstrating your ability to feed, bathe, and comfort infants or toddlers:

Determine and practice safety precautions while caring for children:

Selecting and using creative play activities with babies under 1 year old:

Setting up a business-like plan for baby sitting or a volunteer community child care activity:

Constructing toys or games that appeal to the imagination and playfulness of children:

Prepared by Marcelle Straatman, former Extension human development specialist.

Extension Service, Oregon State University, Corvallis, O.E. Smith, director. This publication was produced and distributed in furtherance of the Acts of Congress of May 8 and June 30, 1914. Extension work is a cooperative program of Oregon State University, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and Oregon counties. Oregon State University Extension Service offers educational programs, activities, and materials—without regard to race, color, national origin, sex, age, or disability—as required by Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Oregon State University Extension Service is an Equal Opportunity Employer.
