

Proposed Learning Outcome Process

Departments by definition have unique missions.
May have clusters or areas of alignment

Goals may also be unique or overlap

We will likely see some common learning outcomes even with different missions and goals. We could choose one or two to focus on within each org..

With only one or two outcomes, we could focus on multiple methods to triangulate results and help create deeper meaning

At a retreat, we could then share what we learned in both content and process.
