FOREWORD

IN April 1908, Charles W. Smith, Assistant Librarian of the University of Washington, was induced by fellow librarians to prepare a co-operative check list of books and pamphlets relating to the Pacific Northwest and available in libraries of the region. A plan was agreed upon whereby each library furnished a card list of its holdings to Mr. Smith, who as compiler codified the records and edited the resultant union list. The volume was published in 1909 by the Washington State Library under the title, Check-List of Books and Pamphlets Relating to the History of the Pacific Northwest to be Found in Representative Libraries of That Region. The title indicates clearly that the intention of the compiler and his collaborators was to prepare a list of actual holdings and not a comprehensive bibliography.

Twelve years later, most of the libraries had grown in stature and their holdings of Pacific Northwest Americana had more than trebled. It was time to prepare a second edition, revised and enlarged, and one might even say considerably improved for the librarians of the region had learned much about bibliography in more than a decade of growth and experience. This edition, bearing the short title, Pacific Northwest Americana, was published in 1921. Eighteen libraries co-operated in its preparation. The work became a popular and valued reference book and other libraries evinced an interest in being included in any future edition which might appear. Consequently, many libraries of the Pacific Northwest entered into an agreement to report regularly to the Bibliography Committee of the Pacific Northwest Library Association future additions to their holdings of Pacific Northwest Americana.

Since 1921 there has been a tremendous increase in the number of Pacific Northwest titles published and, as the libraries of the region have been better off financially, the resources of the region have grown geometrically. The desirability of an up-to-date check list has been indicated for the past ten years; edition two is out of print, and the thousands of new library acquisitions deserve recording in a union list.

Early in 1948 Isabel Mayhew of the Reference Division of the University of Washington was appointed editor of a third edition of the Check List. Her manuscript is a complete revision and the additions reflect not only new imprints dated 1948 and earlier, but also the resources of many new libraries. In all, thirty-eight institutions have now contributed lists of their holdings.

In such a compilation as this union Check List some errors are inevitable. This is due to the fact that it was prepared with the collaboration of many busy librarians and not by electronic robots. In spite of this, we have every right to believe that it will prove to be an invaluable guide to the location of more than 11,000 entries. Furthermore, it should prove a boon to book collectors and dealers as well as librarians.

This new edition of Pacific Northwest Americana is a project of the Bibliography Committee of the Pacific Northwest Library Association. The production of a co-operative reference tool such as a union check list entails much work on the part of many people. Acknowledgment is due all librarians who supplied the card entries from the thirty-eight participating libraries. Without their whole-hearted support, the union check list simply would not exist today. Isabel Mayhew devoted almost two years to the meticulous work of editing and preparing the manuscript. J. Ronald Todd, Curator of the Pacific Northwest Collection at the University of Washington, has been largely responsible for the maintenance of the expanding union catalog of Pacific Northwest resources from which the check list entries were drawn. He has also taken a lively part in fostering the work of the Editor. To the extent that the Check List is good, we are indebted to Charles W. Smith, compiler of the first two editions, who has guided the cumulation of manuscript entries for the third. What is more, he has examined the new manuscript searchingly. On the basis of his knowledge of Pacific Northwest Americana, it has been possible to winnow out many inappropriate entries that otherwise might have found their way into the final draft.

In the fall of 1949, the Executive Board of the Pacific Northwest Library Association endorsed the publication of the third edition, and agreed to sponsor its publication by the Oregon Historical Society. A debt of gratitude to this Society should be acknowledged. Its Superintendent, Lancaster Pollard, made an early publication possible. His enthusiastic willingness to publish the Check List and his skill in producing an attractive volume are much appreciated. Inez Haskell, Librarian of the Society, has also done much to augment the manuscript by supplying additional entries and bibliographical information essential to a well edited book.

Finally, a word of thanks to the authors of books about the Pacific Northwest. Their enterprise has made a new Check List of Pacific Northwest Americana essential and its contents of interest to everyone who appreciates the growth and development of Western United States and Canada.

HARRY C. BAUER

Chairman, Bibliography Committee
Pacific Northwest Library Association

3 July 1950
THE third edition of the Smith Check List, Pacific Northwest Americana, is based directly on the second edition (1921) which has been enlarged and extended to and including the year 1948. Both editions were sponsored by the Bibliography Committee of the Pacific Northwest Library Association.

The present edition shows in one volume the library regional resources of the area now served by the Pacific Northwest Bibliographic Center. Included within the area are the states of Idaho, Montana, Oregon, and Washington; together with British Columbia, Alaska, and the Yukon. To quote from the preface to the second edition, “The word history (as it appears in the subtitle) has been used in the broadest sense including a wide range of literature bearing upon the region.” Furthermore, certain regional imprints have been arbitrarily included as have certain general works written by regional authors.

In order to keep the present edition within bounds, certain criteria have been established to govern content thus excluding whole classes of material, regardless of rarity or historical importance. For example, the second edition included “some few state and federal documents of rarity and importance” and “reprints and excerpts from magazines, when of historical importance.” The third edition includes no documents, reprints, or excerpts because it is felt that these are covered by standard lists and indexes. Following is the list of material excluded: Broadsides, Chamber of Commerce publications, clippings, directories, documents (federal, state and local), excerpts from periodicals and books, manuscripts, maps, periodicals, reprints from periodicals, scrapbooks, and general works with only parts or sections pertaining to the Pacific Northwest. Books or pamphlets published as special numbers of periodicals have been included if they are devoted entirely to one Pacific Northwest subject. Imprints later than 1948 have not been included.

Pacific Northwest Americana is a union list of holdings of 38 representative libraries of the region, not a comprehensive bibliography of imprints. Consequently, no attempt has been made to check publishers’ catalogues or other printed sources of information in order to assure coverage of all items relating to the region. If a title is not contained in one or more of the participating libraries, it is not included in the Check List, no matter how rare or important it may be.

The “Key to co-operating libraries” lists the symbols which are used to show the locations of each item unless seven or more libraries have a particular book, in which case the word “Many” is used. Obviously, the full strength of the cooperating libraries cannot be accurately gauged by the Check List because of excluded classes listed above, because most libraries have arrearages in cataloging, and because entries for the third edition were closed on July 1, 1949 when final editing began. It was the original intention of the Bibliography Committee to submit manuscript copies of the Check List to the contributing libraries in order that they might check their own holdings and thereby greatly increase the accuracy of the list. This proved inexpedient because of the time involved and the prohibitive cost of issuing the volume under such conditions.

An account of the countries adjoining to Hudson's Bay, in the north-west part of America; containing a description of their lakes and rivers, the nature of the soil and counties, and their methods of commerce, &c. shewing the benefit to be made by settling colonies, and opening a trade in these parts; whereby the French will be deprived in a great measure of their traffick in furs, and the communication between Canada and Mississippi be cut off. With an abstract of Captain Middleton's journal, and observations upon his behaviour during his voyage, and since his return. To which are added, I. A letter from Bartholomew de Fonte, giving an account of his voyage from Lima to Peru, to prevent, or seize upon any ships that should attempt to find a north-west passage to the South sea. II. An abstract of all the discoveries which have been publish'd of the islands and countries in and adjoining to the great western ocean between America, India, and China, &c. III. The Hudson's bay company's charter. IV. The standard of trade in those parts of America; with an account of the exports and profits made annually by the Hudson's bay company. V. Vocabularies of the languages of several Indian nations adjoining to Hudson's bay. The whole intended to show the great probability of a northwest passage. London, Printed for J. Robinson, 1744. ii, 211 p. front. (fold. map) CVicAr OrOr WaU 2483

Remarks upon Capt. Middleton's defence: wherein is examined his conduct during his late voyage for discovering a passage from Hudson's Bay to the South-Sea is impartially examin'd whereby it will appear, with the highest probability, that there is such a passage as he went in search of. With an appendix of original papers. London, Printed by the author's appointment, and sold by J. Robinson, 1744. 171 p. map. CVicAr WaU 2484

Reply to Capt. Middleton's answer to the remarks on his vindication of his conduct to which is added, a full answer to a late pamphlet published by Capt. Mid-
