House Officers receive completion awards

Having finished their post-DVM training in our Veterinary Teaching Hospital, on June 19 five house officers were awarded their certificates for completing their programs. For Drs. Hustace and Carney this was a three-year and two-year program, respectively; and a one year program for Drs. Fryer, McCracken and Welch.

The awards were presented by Dr. Helen Diggs, Director of the Veterinary Teaching Hospital, with additional words of congratulations by Drs. John Schlipf and Jana Gordon.

There was a reception in the atrium following the event.

Dr. Katy Fryer:

Intern, Small Animal Internal Medicine

Dr. Jaime Hustace:

Resident, Large Animal Internal Medicine

Dr. Megan McCracken:

Clinical Fellow, Large Animal Internal Medicine

Dr. Corrie Welch:

Intern, Small Animal Internal Medicine

Dr. Katelyn Romeo Carney:

Resident, Large Animal Internal Medicine

Class of 2009 graduation video on the web

The graduation ceremony for the Class of 2009 was videotaped for the first time this year. To see clips of the Baxter Black, keynote speaker, Dr. Bernard Seguin, faculty speaker, and several of the graduates being hooded, follow this link: <http://oregonstate.edu/vetmed/node/752>

What they're doing after graduation

The recently graduated Class of 2009 is now settling into life after graduation. As each graduate received their hoods, Dr. Tornquist read their post graduation plans for their immediate future:
